

LEFO

Institute for Studies of the Medical Profession

Program 6th Nordic Research IPOQ-Conference:

Digitalizing and new technology:
Impacts on work climate, professional identity and patient-care
Challenges and opportunities

Monday 2 March 2020

10:00 – 10:30 Registration

10:30 – 10:45 Welcome

10:45 – 11:15 Key Note "New technologies in health care – disrupting practices, professions, and societies?" Bjørn Hofmann, Norway

11:15 – 11:45 Small group reflection and plenary discussion

11:45 – 12:00 Break

All research presentation have 15 minutes, then 5 min small group reflection and 10 min plenary discussion

12:00 – 12:30 The future of medical AI: the role of medical doctors
Torbjørn Gundersen et al, Norway

12:30 - 13:00 Root metaphors about the futures of e-health interventions
Torsten Risør, Norway

13:00 – 14:00 Lunch

14:00 – 14:30 In-house 3D-printing changing the way surgeons prepare for difficult procedures
Jan-Magne Gjerde, Norway

14:30 – 15:00 Different ward round – opening the space for the human illness experience – a way to balance digitalizing and new technology in healthcare
Valdemar Erling, Sweden

15:00 – 15:30 Break and check in

15:30 – 16:00 Data-intensive technologies in Pathology: Understanding the challenges and potential in the medical profession, diagnostics, and medical education" Olsi Kusta, Denmark

16:00 – 16:30 Potentials and pitfalls of hospital board committees for quality and patient safety (HBCQPS) Ellen Tveter Deilkås et al, Norway

16:30 – 16:45 Break

16:45 – 17:15 Work and well-being in doctors: A short review of Norwegian studies
Reidar Tyssen, Norway

17:15 - 17:45 Do peer support services meet the needs of doctors seeking help? A qualitative interview study" Ingrid Marie Taxt Horne et al, Norway

17:45 – 18:45 Break

18:45 – 19:15 Artistic surprise

19:15 Dinner

Tuesday 3 March 2020

09:00 – 09:30 Key note User-driven adaptation of electronic health record systems: A case study of a large Epic implementation in Denmark

Jørgen Bansler, Denmark

09:30 – 10:00 Discussion

10:00 - 10.15 Break

10.15 – 10.45 How is data intensification changing clinical reasoning in general practice?

A research proposal for an interdisciplinary PhD project Christoffer Bjerre Haase, Denmark

10.45 – 11.15 Why don't Norwegian doctors choose general practice? A study based on cross-sectional survey in 2016/2017 Cecilie Normann Birkeli et al, Norway

11:15 – 11.40 Break and check out

11:40 – 12.10 Does burnout among doctors really lead to objective and observed adverse patient outcomes? A selective review Kashan Mangory and Lavin Ali et al, Norway

12:10 – 12:40 Governing health care provision – clinicians' experiences
Inger Lise Teig et al, Norway

12:40 – 13:10 Increased mental distress and help-seeking among medical students over the past 20 years: the roles of gender and social support - Two cross-sectional surveys 20 years apart
Nora Ruud et al, Norway

13:10 – 13:15 Closing remarks

13:15 – 14:00 Lunch