

The Biennial Pelvic Floor Centre Symposium 2021

– Mesh complications in pelvic organ prolapse

The Biennial Pelvic Floor Centre Symposium, Akershus University Hospital 2021

We would like to inform you that, in consideration of Covid-19 pandemic, we are conducting a virtual symposium in 2021.

Symposium objectives:

To address evidence-based treatment methods for pelvic organ prolapse and pelvic floor disorders. Discussion and questions can be in Norwegian or English.

Who should attend:

The program is for gynaecologists, urologists, registered nurses, physiotherapists and other interested health professionals

Location:

Zoom Webinar. Please find details below.

Fee:

No fee

Date:

07.04. 2021 Kl. 16.00 – 1800 (CET)

No registration required. To attend 07.04 click here:

<https://uio.zoom.us/j/64597512669?pwd=cFhXTkdtZU1tRWU3elhJR1kyN0o0Zz09>

Contact details:

chpl@ahus.no

Visit our homepage:

www.ahus.no/bekkensenteret

Program: Wednesday 07.04

16.00 – 16.15 Introduction Case report

Johannes Schultz, Consultant Colorectal Surgeon, Department of Digestive Surgery and The Pelvic Floor Centre, Akershus University Hospital

16.15 – 16.50 Mesh complications in pelvic organ prolapse and incontinence surgery with a clinical perceptive

Swati Jha, Consultant Urogynaecologist, Chair BSUG, Jessop Wing, Sheffield

16.50 – 17.05 Panel Discussion

17.05 – 17.40 Prevention and treatment of pelvic organ prolapse

Kari Bø, Professor, Physiotherapist, Department of Sports Medicine, Norwegian School of Sports Sciences

17.40 – 17.55 Panel Discussion

17.55 – 18.00 Adjourn

All times are Central European Time (CET)